Dear Mr. Eaton:-

I have your letter of the 24th. In regard to the money paid for scholarships not taking the place of fees, this refers only to the students of the school and the idea is that they should receive extra tuition equivalent to the value of the scholarship instead of allowing the money to be applied on regular fees. These scholarships have been used for extra training in Voice Work, or for whatever they have needed or desired. ~~The~~ The scholarships for outside students entitle them to free tuition to the value of the scholarship in any department of the school. They serve as the modus operandi to get them here. I can secure other scholarships if my Directors encourage it. We want a two hundred dollar one now for the Presbyterian Deaconesses who need the work.

Dr. Burwash will tell you of the plan adopted by the University regarding a Chair Scholarship or Endowment which would solve the problem and relieve the head of the school from worry for all time. This I want to be assured of, not for myself, but for the permanence of the school.

Faithfully yours,

E. Scott Boff.

Dear Sir:-

In answer to your letter of November 30th re Group I: -

The Josephine Burnside Scholarship of $ 200.00 was given originally for Christian workers , non-denominational, that they might be taught to read the Bible intelligently in their work. The $ 200.00^{Scholarship} was first given to the students of the Methodist Deaconess Training School, but was divided afterwards with the Anglican School when they applied for training. They really each get $ 200.00 worth of lectures because we have added a course in Physical Education. We have forty-five students registered for this training this year. This department of our work is very important and we want $ 600.00 in scholarships^{donation} to carry it on.

In Group II, the plan is to get students of special talent to come to the school. They are given an option as to what training they desire in the English or Expression Departments and it includes Voice and Physical Training..

In Group III, the training is for the individual, and the scholarship is not to be used for payment of class fees.

Faithfully yours,

E. Scott Maff per Th. I.
